LETTER FROM OUR CEO

Hi Friend,

"The public can be very confident that this vaccine meets the high standards for safety, effectiveness, and manufacturing quality the FDA requires of an approved product."

This is the message broadcasted by the FDA, mere days after our own COVID Precaution Policy was announced, regarding the Pfizer vaccine. While leading officials in the medical and science communities have agreed on the safety of the COVID vaccine since its release earlier this year, this formal approval by the FDA is an important step in truly reassuring the public that it is in their best interest to receive the vaccine, rather than leave themselves, and others, dangerously vulnerable to the highly contagious Delta variant of COVID.

It may seem like it took a long time for this approval to come, but the FDA moved carefully through very large amounts of data. While they are currently at work to grant full approval for the Moderna and Johnson & Johnson vaccines, the thinking remains the same: all of the different COVID vaccines are not only safe, but the most reliable defense against COVID. There is an active effort to amplify this message around the country to those who are hesitant - yet there are places where it is arguably the most important to ensure it is heard: childcare centers.

Pure and simple: vaccines are not just safe, they are our only line of defense. This sentiment cannot be understated; it is the very foundation of our announcement at the end of last week. It's a message that comes not just from our company, but from the medical field, the nation's leading scientists, Dr. Anthony Fauci, and now the FDA: the best way to protect yourself, your community, and our still unvaccinated children, is to get vaccinated yourself.

With admiration,

David Post
Chief Executive Officer
